1. Overview

Welcome to Broad Match evaluation.

Broad match ensures that ads will be matched with appropriate keywords - such as singular, plurals, misspellings, synonyms, related searches, and phrases that include that term, fully or partially.

Example 1: if an advertiser targets "Facebook" as broad keyword, ads could appear for queries such as "social media", "fb", "Facebook messenger","TikTok"

Example 2: if an advertiser targets "drawing" as broad keyword, ads could appear for queries such as "drawing app", "kids drawing:", "drawing pen"

2. Task Guidelines

In this task you'll see a keyword used by an advertiser and its subsequent expansion to a query. The main goal is to rate the match between advertiser keyword intent (keyword column) with the query intent (expansion column).

Intent is defined as follows : Intent is the desired outcome by a user — keyword intent is the advertiser's desired outcome, and query intent (expansion column) is the user's intent while performing search. We have also provided categories below each ratings that helps with defining intent.

Use the research links provided in the tool, or other online resources, to be sure you understand what both the original keyword and the expansion mean.

You'll then give one of three ratings to the pair:

- Good
- Acceptable
- Bad

If the keyword, expansion or both, are in a language that's not used in your market, use an online translation tool to find the meaning and leave a note in the Comments box explaining what you did.

3. Research

The research links provided in the tool will help you understand the meaning and intent of both the keyword and expansion.

App Search Links

The App Search links search the web for the original keyword or the expansion, including only results from the App Store for your country. Use them to investigate which apps are returned for the keyword and the expansion.

Keep in mind that when keyword or a expansion seems likely to be functional, rather than navigational, it's less likely that the results from the app search will be an accurate reflection of the possible intent.

Note: Ignore any ads that may appear at the top of the search results page and compare only the App Store results you see.

Web Search Links

The web search links searches the web for general results about the original keyword or the expansion, including, but not limited to, results from the App Store for your country. These links are most useful for general research and reference.

4. Examples

A. Below are examples for keyword and expansions that can be rated Good:

Exhibit 1

- Keyword: Cash transfer | Expansion : Überweisung
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is non branded term, then it is ideal to perform web search and App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - Understand the meaning of the word and try to see if they share the same intent
 - In the above case on searching Überweisung, it is apparent that it's a foreign term
 - On further translating the term, both cash transfer and Überweisung share the same intent of cash transfer

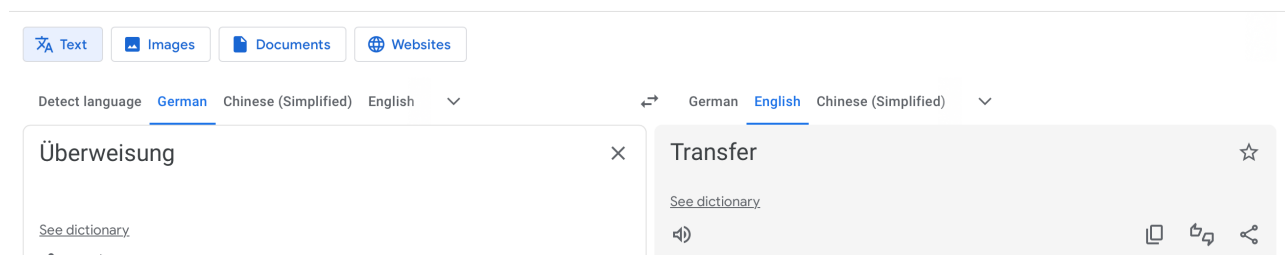

Exhibit 2

- Keyword : dou yin | Expansion : TikTok
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is branded term, then it is ideal to perform App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - On App Store search it is observed that both dou yin and TikTok are the same apps and hence share syntactic intent
 - Below is the search result for dou yin

App Store 预览

B. Below are examples for keyword and expansion that can be rated Acceptable :

Exhibit 3

- Keyword : UNO | Expansion : Monopoly
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is branded term, then it is ideal to perform App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - Even though both UNO and Monopoly are not visually similar on further search in the App Store we observe by going through app descriptions, that they share the same intent of leisure games
 - Below are the examples of the app description in the App Store :

UNO! - The Classic Multiplayer Party Card Game! Play online against your friends, family, or people from all over the world!

UNO!™ is now mobile! Take the classic card game from the kitchen table anywhere! Now with new rules, world series tournaments, modes of play, and much more. Whether you're at home, on the go, an UNO! more

*Monopoly on mobile includes cross-platform online multiplayer, which means you can open up a lobi more

Exhibit 4

- Keyword : Multiplayer | Expansion : Call of Duty
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is branded term, then it is ideal to perform App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - In this case with keyword being non branded terms, it is ideal to understand what multiplayer means on web search and App Store search
 - On further viewing the details of "Call of duty" on App Store : It is a multiplayer game and hence can be categorised as same semantic intent

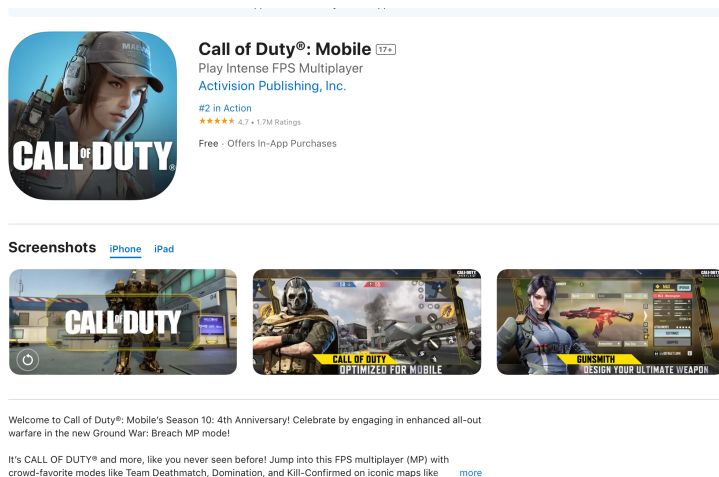

Exhibit 5

- Keyword : Great Indian festival | Expansion : Amazon
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is branded term, then it is ideal to perform App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - In this case with keyword being non branded terms, it is ideal to understand what Great Indian festival means on web search and App Store search
 - On further viewing the details of "Great Indian festival" on Web search , we see that it's a popular annual sale event organised by Amazon India and thus share the same semantic intent with amazon

C. Below are examples for keyword and expansion that will be rated Bad:

Exhibit 6

- Keyword : Adidas | Expansion : ESPN
- Approach :
 - If the keyword or expansion is branded term, then it is ideal to perform App Store search individually for both keyword and expansion
 - On App Store search it is observed that while adidas and ESPN share the same category i.e, sports, they don't share the same intent based on their respective app descriptions. Adidas is an sports e-commerce app and ESPN is sports broadcasting app

Exhibit 7

- Keyword : video editor | Expansion : collage maker
- Approach :
 - With keyword and expansion being non branded terms, it is ideal to understand what each of the term means on web search and App Store search
 - On App Store search it is observed that video editor refers to video editing app and collage maker is photo editing app. They each have a different intent
